- 1 a person who makes you laugh

- g Do you think Charlotte is the best person to help find her dad a date? Why?

Please date my dad!

‘So, how was the date?’

You probably think this is a parent asking the question to their child. But many children are now helping their single parents find love, too. Clint Bouchez, a 52-year-old businessman from Reigate, Surrey, got divorced ten years ago. His daughter, 26-year-old Charlotte, doesn't want her dad to end up alone – her mum remarried five years ago, and Charlotte has a boyfriend.

Charlotte and Clint are very close. They often go out together in the evening, they're planning a trip to India for later in the year, and they're both Bruce Springsteen fans. But Charlotte thinks that Clint needs a new partner, and he agrees.

‘My dad is the perfect man,’ she says. ‘He’s warm, he’s generous, he knows how to look after a woman, how to treat a woman. He’s a gentleman. He’s always the one who pays on dates. He’s romantic and he’s fun. I don’t mind spending Friday and Saturday nights with my dad and that says a lot – I’m only 26.’

Dating in the 21st century is very different from when Clint was young. Internet dating has changed everything. ‘It’s difficult now just to walk over to a woman and ask her “Can I buy you a drink?”’ he says. ‘Before, when you met people face to face, there was sometimes a “spark”, a feeling of romantic destiny – you don’t get that from someone’s profile picture.’

Charlotte wrote Clint’s dating profile for an online dating website. Clint would like to meet a woman who works, preferably a businesswoman. Someone who’s independent, but funny and clever. He has had several dates, but none of the women were right for him. He and Charlotte are still looking. ‘I’m always hopeful,’ he says. ‘I really believe that sooner or later I’m going to find “the one”.’

‘Passport, tickets, money, phone’

It's the mantra we always say to ourselves when we go on holiday to make sure we haven't forgotten anything. But what happens when one of those things is suddenly missing? Email us your stories or send us a recording...

Last year, I went on holiday to the Alps with a group of friends. One day, we climbed a mountain – well, it wasn't really a climb, but it was a long walk – and it took about two hours to get to the top. When we got there, we had lunch. The view was amazing – we could see the sea in the distance. We took photos and just sat in the sun for a while.

Then we went down again, and when we got back to the car, I wanted to take another photo, but I couldn't find my phone – it wasn't in my bag. I thought 'Oh no! It's probably at the top of the mountain, where we had lunch.' I decided the only thing to do was to go back up the mountain to get it, because I didn't want to leave my phone up there. My friends said 'OK, but you can't go on your own', so in the end we all went up again, which was another two hours.

When we got to the top we spent about half an hour looking for the phone, but we couldn't find it anywhere. Then it started to get colder – it was now late afternoon – so I took my jacket out of my bag, and... my phone was in my jacket pocket!

I felt terrible, and really stupid! My friends were very nice about it, but they never let me forget it!

The Guardian newspaper has a weekly feature called That's me in the picture, where people describe famous photos they were in. This photo was sent in by Jane Rangeley.

In 1972, I was living in London. I was in my early twenties, and 05 I was working for an advertising agency. That summer, I went on a camping holiday with my parents in the south of France. One night, I went to a nightclub on the beach and I met a young Frenchman, and we fell in love. When I got home, I immediately started looking for a job in Paris. He was at university there – he was studying medicine. In the 10 end, I found a job as a secretary with UNESCO, and I went to live there.

We lived together for six years. On Sundays, we often went for a walk, and one of our favourite places was the botanical gardens. It had a zoo, and I often put some bread in my pocket to give to the animals. We were walking in the gardens one Sunday in autumn when we 15 stopped because a lot of noise was coming from one of the trees. There was an owl there, maybe escaped from the zoo, and some little birds were attacking it. I also noticed a man with a camera. When we started walking again, I said 'Why was that man taking photographs of us?'.

I now know that Cartier-Bresson often waited in parks in Paris 20 for the perfect photo opportunity. The following year, one of my boyfriend's friends saw the photo in a magazine. Before I returned to London, I phoned the magazine and I got Cartier-Bresson's phone number. I was very shy, but I called him. He was very friendly, and he sent me a copy. Years later I met him and he signed the photo for me.

I love this picture. It was a happy time for me. And although my 25 French boyfriend and I broke up in the end, we're still in touch.

How to take better holiday photos

Holiday time is the one time we all take photos. We're in a strange new place, the sun is shining, and we want to record our surroundings and happy memories. So how do we take the perfect holiday photos? Here are three useful tips...

I took this photo in Bruges in Belgium. I got up and, when my friends were having breakfast, I went for a walk with my camera. This gave me three advantages:

- The sun was low in the sky and the light was beautiful and warm.
- There were no people around.
- My friends didn't need to wait patiently when I was taking photos.

The light in the evening is also good, but there are a lot more people around. There are times, in the local market, for example, when having lots of people in the photo can be a good thing, but most of the time I prefer my photos to be less crowded.

I took these two photos of the Forbidden City in Beijing, and I think the picture on the right is much better. Try not to take exactly the same picture as millions of other people – look for little details that other photographers haven't seen. Although I am a very enthusiastic photographer, I often buy a nice postcard of the places I visit – much better than going home with pictures that aren't very good.

These are the gardens outside the Louvre in Paris. We spent all day looking at the paintings, and we were walking back to the hotel when we saw someone feeding the birds. I only had my little camera with me, but it was all I needed. I quickly took maybe 30 photos from different angles, and this one is the best.

What are we going to do?

We're going to visit the Louvre.

3 READING & LISTENING

- a Read the article about TripAside. Do you think it's a good idea?

No more boring stopovers – go on a guided tour!

Few things are more depressing than spending hours in an airport terminal waiting for a connecting flight.

Emmanuel Rozenblum and Anna Veyrenc launched their business in Paris

There you are, sitting in the departure lounge watching the clock, or ¹ _____. And the most frustrating thing is that outside the airport there is a foreign city which you'd really like to look around, full of great ⁵ tourist attractions, restaurants, and shops. But you don't want to leave the airport, because ² _____, and will miss your flight.

Frenchman Emmanuel Rozenblum and his sister were on a stopover at Warsaw's main airport three years ago. ¹⁰ But ³ _____, so they decided to go into town.

'We left the airport on our own,' says Mr Rozenblum, 'but we didn't know which bus to take, and ⁴ _____.'

They caught their flight, and ⁵ _____. Millions of ¹⁵ air travellers make stopovers every year, so Emmanuel thought he could organize short guided trips into the nearest city or countryside.

His idea is that a guide picks up the travellers at the airport, takes them quickly around the sights and to a ²⁰ restaurant, and then ⁶ _____.

In March 2015, he and business partner Anna Veyrenc started their 'stopover tours' business, called TripAside, in Paris. ⁷ _____, and today it has expanded to Frankfurt, London, Brussels, Rome, and Madrid.

²⁵ Now other small companies are offering similar tours worldwide, from Beijing to Moscow. So, next time you have a long stopover between flights, ⁸ _____ – book a tour!

In this game there is a wheel with 25 letters of the alphabet (not including 'X'). The aim of the game is to complete the alphabet wheel by saying the correct word for each letter in five minutes. The presenter gives the contestant definitions for words starting with the letters, for example, 'A – the place where you catch a plane' = 'Airport'.

To start the game the presenter reads a definition for a word which begins with A and the contestant has to quickly say the word. If the contestant can't think of the word, he or she says 'Pass'. When a contestant passes or gets a word wrong, the presenter goes on to the next letter.

The presenter continues round the wheel to Z, then starts from the beginning again. The presenter repeats the definitions that the contestant passed on or got wrong, until five minutes is up. If a contestant gets all 25 words right, he or she wins the prize.

- a Read the headlines. The same word is missing in each one. What do you think it is?

1 Doing _____ is as good as going to the gym

Doing exercise for 30 minutes a day is good for your health, a new Canadian study has found. The study looked at 130,000 people in 17 countries. Only 3% of the people did 30 minutes of sport a day, like running or swimming. But the researchers found that you don't need to do sport or go to the gym – any form of physical activity is good for you, including housework. Activities like doing the cleaning are really good exercise, so you can stay healthy and have a clean house at the same time.

2 NEW SPANISH LAW: children must help their parents with _____

Is it a battle to get your kids to help with housework? Think about moving to live in Spain, where the government has decided that children under the age of 18, both boys and girls, have an obligation to 'participate in family life' – and that includes doing housework. However, they don't say what happens to children who say no when their parents ask them to do something.

Your comments

- 1 A Maybe housework is good exercise, but sport is more fun.
B My children all do housework – I don't need the government's help.
C Great idea. More countries need to do this.
D This can't be true. 30 minutes of cleaning and 30 minutes of running are not the same thing.

The story of the ice cream sellers

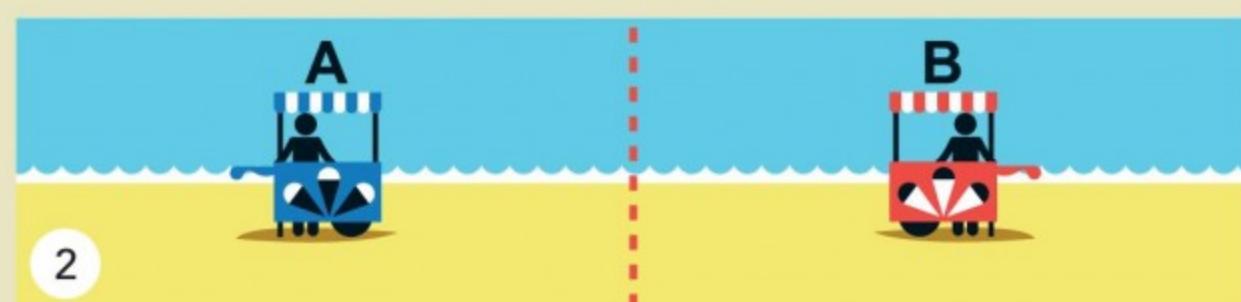

Have you ever noticed that you often find the same kinds of shops together in the same street? Why are they together? Economics gives us one explanation...

Imagine a beach a kilometre long, full of sunbathers. The sun is shining, the sea is warm. An ice cream seller called George arrives. Where does he put his ice cream cart? Obviously,¹ _____, where the sunbathers can easily walk to him and buy an ice cream.

Later that day, a second ice cream seller, Georgina, arrives. George and Georgina talk for a while and decide that the best solution is this:² _____, and they each put their ice cream cart in the middle of their half.

In zone A of the beach the customers go to George, and in zone B they go to Georgina. This is good for the customers, because nobody needs to walk more than 250 metres for an ice cream.

But George isn't happy – he only has 50% of the customers that he had before. So³ _____.

Zone A is now bigger than zone B, and George has more customers and makes more money, but some of his customers need to walk 500 metres to get their ice cream. Of course, Georgina sees what George has done, and now she isn't happy – she's going to lose money. So⁴ _____, and gets 50% of the customers again.

The result is this:

- George and Georgina end up next to each other.
- They both get 50% of the customers.
- More customers need to walk further for an ice cream.

So what's good for businesses isn't always good for customers.

A boring weekend?

Don't tell anybody!

A new survey has shown that 20% of British people tell lies about their weekend on social media.

The survey, by a travel website, shows that people invent stories to make their lives appear more interesting than they really are. Psychologist Judi James, one of the organizers of the survey, said, 'When some people read their friends' posts and see their photos on Facebook, Twitter, and Instagram, they begin to feel jealous of them. They think that their friends are having a much more exciting life. So they invent details about their own weekend.'

One of the main reasons people give for inventing these stories is to have something to talk about on Monday morning at work or at school. This is because they don't want other people to think that they have a boring life. The most popular lies people tell are that they went to a party or went away for the weekend, and 3% of people even put on fake tan on Sunday night to make their colleagues think they've had a weekend away in the sun. One person in ten invents a romantic break with their partner.

People aged 18 to 24 are the ones who most often tell lies on social media and men lie more often than women. Only 20% of people interviewed said that they always told the truth in posts.

Judi James said: 'Social media is becoming increasingly important in our lives, and it seems we're living one life online and another in reality.'

So when you are feeling jealous on a Saturday night because your best friend is having a romantic dinner with her boyfriend in Venice, stop and ask yourself, 'Is she really there, or is she just sitting at home feeling bored like me?'

900 new words in 3 months

Everyone knows the English language is changing. Every three months the OED (Oxford English Dictionary) publishes updates to its online dictionary. One recent update contained 900 new words, new expressions, or new meanings for existing words. But where do they all come from?

New words are created in many different ways. We can make a new word by combining two words, like gastropub (gastronomy + pub) or vlog (video + blog). Sometimes we put two words together in a new way, for example road rage or selfie stick.

We also find that nouns can change into verbs. Take the word text. Text was always a noun (from about 1369, according to the OED), but it is now very common as a verb, to text somebody. Other new words already existed but with a different meaning. For example, tweet was the noise that a bird makes, but now we use it more often (as a verb or a noun) for a message that people put on the social networking site Twitter.

Another way in which we make new words is by 'adopting' words from foreign languages, like barista or latte (imported from Italian when coffee bars became really popular in the UK in the 1990s).

A lot of new words come from the names of brands or companies, for example we Skype each other and we google information. We also need more general words to describe new technology or new gadgets: wi-fi, ringtone, and smartphone are some examples.

The invention of new words is not a new phenomenon. The word brunch (breakfast + lunch) first appeared in 1896, newspaper (news + paper) in 1667, and English speakers started to use the word café (from French) in the late 19th century. The difference now is how quickly new words and expressions enter the language and how quickly we start to use and understand them.

Are we living faster?

Yes, we need to slow down.

1 READING & SPEAKING

- a Look at the questionnaire. In pairs, ask and answer the questions. Answer with often, sometimes, or never.

HOW FAST IS YOUR LIFE?

- 3 Do you think it's a good thing that life is getting faster? Why (not)?

I WANT IT, AND I WANT IT NOW! Why are we so impatient?

Tuesday 22 Oct 6:00 am

Whatever happened to patience?

We don't like waiting for things anymore. With faster broadband, instant searches, and immediate downloads, we expect things to happen immediately, and if they don't we get impatient.

Fast food restaurants have changed the way we eat. The growth of mobile phone apps like Tinder has changed the way we meet new people. We don't need to wait a week to see the next episode of a TV series – we can download it on Netflix. We are even walking 10% faster than 20 years ago, and talking more quickly. Everything is getting faster, but is it getting better? That depends on how fast you like to live.

More than 125m
Google searches are made every hour.

The average British person is only prepared to wait
4 minutes to get a drink in a bar...

50% of users leave a web page that doesn't load in ten seconds. Three out of five people don't return to that site.

...and
6 minutes for a bus.

1/3 of British people expect a 'like' on a Facebook picture in less than a minute after posting it.

British people's most hated time-wasting activities are (in order):

- 1 waiting to be connected on the phone
- 2 waiting for a replacement credit card
- 3 waiting for a shopping delivery
- 4 waiting for a delayed flight
- 5 being stuck in traffic

3 LISTENING

- a Read about a recent experiment. Then cover the text and in your own words explain how the experiment worked.

What are the most (and least) honest cities in the world?

Reader's Digest organized an experiment to try to find out...

Their reporters 'lost' 12 wallets in 16 cities around the world. They left the wallets in different areas of each of the chosen cities, places like shopping malls, or in parks, or on the pavement. In each wallet there was the equivalent of 50 dollars in local currency, a family photo, and a couple of business cards with a name and phone number. A reporter waited somewhere near each wallet to see what happened. Another reporter answered the phone when people called to report the lost wallet, and then met the people and asked them why they returned the wallet.

 - e Do you agree with the information in the article? Have you read or heard anything recently which contradicts anything in the article?

ARE THEY REALLY GOOD AND BAD?

How do we know what to believe when doctors give us advice about what to drink and what not to drink? Every week, it seems, a scientific study contradicts last week's research. Jeremy Laurance reviews the latest medical research into drinks.

ALCOHOL

GOOD: For the heart, in small amounts, according to some studies. Two small glasses of red wine a day can cut the risk of heart attack by 30%, especially for middle-aged men.

BAD: For the liver. Liver disease is increasing. Some studies also say that one drink a day increases a woman's risk of all types of cancer by 6%. Other recent studies suggest that no alcohol at all is the ideal for both men and women.

COFFEE

GOOD: Coffee contains caffeine, which is a stimulant drug, and millions of people drink coffee every day. It improves short-term memory, makes your muscles stronger, keeps you awake, and tastes delicious.

BAD: It's sometimes connected with heart disease, arthritis, and high blood pressure.

JUICE

GOOD: For people who don't like fruit and prefer to have it as juice.

BAD: For teeth, especially orange juice which contains a lot of acid. Juice also has a lot of natural sugar, so drinking a lot can add to weight problems.

MILK

GOOD: For very young children, who need the calcium for their bones.

BAD: For adults and older children. They don't need the extra calcium, and high fat foods like full-fat milk, butter, and cheese can cause heart disease.

TEA

GOOD: Black tea cuts the risk of heart disease. It also reduces stress, makes you more alert, and may help the immune system and prevent diabetes.

BAD: If you add milk, the good effects of tea disappear. Sugar makes it worse.

WATER

GOOD: We can't live without it, but how much is enough? Typical advice is that you need 2.5 litres a day, but that includes liquid you get from other drinks and from food.

BAD: Too much water can cause problems, e.g. low salt levels. A few people have actually died from drinking too much water.

- b Read the article and check. What is 'defensive pessimism'?

Why negative thinking can be positive

Everybody thinks that it's better to be an optimist than a pessimist (even pessimists think it, of course). People always say 'Cheer up. Don't worry, be happy. Smile.' But in fact there's a kind of pessimism – called 'defensive pessimism' – that can lead to very positive results, according to Julie K. Norem, a professor of psychology at Wellesley College, Massachusetts. 'Defensive pessimism is a strategy used in specific situations to manage anxiety, fear, and worry,' says Norem. Studies show that 30 to 35 per cent of Americans use it to help them in their lives, and they're often very successful people.

Defensive pessimists think about future situations and prepare for them by imagining all the things that can go wrong. For example, if a defensive pessimist has an important exam, they think this:

- 15 Then they look at each possible problem and plan how to avoid it. So for the exam situation, they go to bed early and have a good night's sleep; they find out in advance exactly where the exam is; they eat a good breakfast, and take lots of pens and pencils, and a bottle of water; and they leave home early. That puts them in control, and it means that the exam will be better than for an optimist, who just thinks 'Oh, everything will be fine!' Because sometimes everything goes wrong, and it's good to be prepared.

The woman who inspired 'I have a dream'

Mahalia Jackson was a musical legend who helped to bring gospel music from the church to large audiences. She was Aretha Franklin's mentor, and in 1961 she was the first gospel singer to win a Grammy Award. She was also an important member of the Civil Rights Movement in the USA, and she was a close friend of Martin Luther King.

Mahalia often went with King on civil rights demonstrations and marches, including into the most hostile parts of the South, and she sang at the events. As a presenter from National Public Radio said, 'her voice became the soundtrack of the Civil Rights Movement'.

On 28th August 1963, there was a famous march in Washington against racism. Mahalia was with King, who was going to give a five-minute speech. Before the day itself, he and his advisers decided what he was going to say.

King began speaking to an audience of more than 250,000 people. But towards the end, he felt that his speech was not going well. Suddenly Mahalia shouted 'Tell them about the dream, Martin. Tell them about the dream'. She knew about it because she was at a previous event in Detroit, in June of that year, where King talked about his dream for African Americans. It was, in the words of King's adviser Clarence Jones, 'one of the world's greatest gospel singers shouting to one of the world's greatest preachers'. King looked at Mahalia. Then he threw away his written speech, and looked at the audience.

'I have a dream...I have a dream that my four little children will one day live in a nation where they will not be judged by the colour of their skin, but by the content of their character...'

And so he continued, and he gave one of the best-loved speeches in American history.

Tell them about the dream, Martin. Tell them about the dream

- 4 How did a British newspaper try to find out if the British really are bad at learning languages?
- 5 Why did Max decide to learn Spanish? How did he learn?
- 6 What did he do when he finished the course?

1  That's been true for a long time. In any city around the world you can hear British tourists asking for the restaurant menu in English. Sometimes they try to say a couple of phrases in the local language, but they stop making an effort as soon as they discover that the waiter knows a little English. Some British people who live abroad often spend all their time with other Brits, and never learn the language at all.

2  Many British people think 'I don't have to learn a foreign language because everyone speaks English nowadays'. This is partly true. In many multinational companies, for example, employees have to speak English as it is the company's official language of communication.

3  Children only have to learn a language until they are 14. After that, they don't have to continue if they don't want to. Thirty per cent of young people say that they don't want to carry on with a foreign language because 'it's too difficult'.

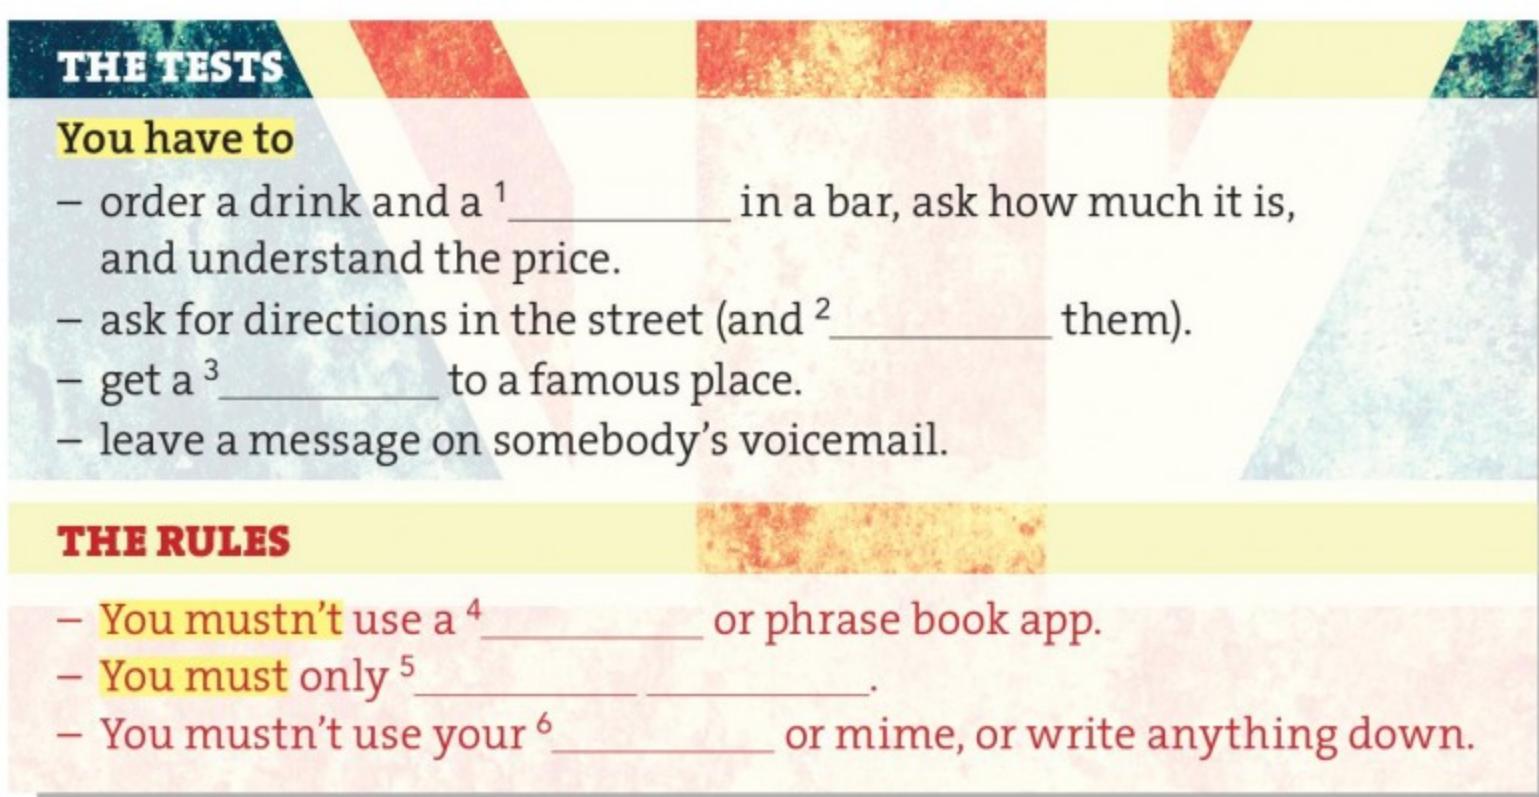

4  A newspaper decided to find out by sending Max, one of its journalists, on an intensive language course. He then had to go to the country and do some 'tests' to see if he could 'survive' in different situations.

5  'I'd like to visit Spain and Latin America in the future. If I go, I don't want to be the typical Brit who expects everyone else to speak English.' He did a one-month intensive course at a language school in London.

6  When his course finished he went to Madrid for the weekend to do his tests. A teacher called Paula met him there and gave him a mark out of ten for each test and then a final mark for everything.

- a If you're in a slow queue at the supermarket and you change to a different queue, what will usually happen?
- b Read the first two paragraphs of the article and check. Who was Murphy? What is his 'Law'?

If something can go wrong...

If you're in a queue at the supermarket and you change to another queue which is moving more quickly, what will happen? The queue you were in before will suddenly start moving faster. What will happen if you take your umbrella because you think it's going to rain later? It won't rain, of course. It will only rain if you forget to take your umbrella. These are examples of Murphy's Law, which says, 'If there is something that can go wrong, it will go wrong'.

Murphy's Law took its name from Captain Edward Murphy, an American aerospace engineer from the 1940s. He was trying to improve safety for pilots flying military planes. 05 "She moved there a week ago," said the detective. "I can follow her if you want. It will only cost you $7 a day and expenses..."

"No, thank you," interrupted Hartley. "I only wanted the address. How much is it?"

10 "One day's work," said the detective. "Ten dollars."

Hartley paid the man. Then he left his office and took a tram to Broadway. After walking a short distance he arrived at the building that he was looking for. He went up the stairs, into her apartment, and saw her 15 standing by the window.

Vivienne was about twenty-one. Her hair was red gold, and her eyes were sea-blue. She was wearing a white top and a dark skirt.

The girl looked out the window dreamily.

“Mr Hartley,” she said slowly, “I don’t know what to say to you. I understand all the advantages of your offer, and sometimes I feel sure that I could be happy with you. But, then sometimes I am less sure. I was born a city girl, and I am not sure that I would enjoy living a quiet life in the suburbs.”

“My dear girl,” said Hartley, “You will have everything that you want. You can come to the city for the theatre, for shopping, and to visit your friends as often as you want. You can trust me, can’t you?”

“I can trust you completely,” she said, smiling at him. “I know you are the kindest of men, and that the girl who you get will be very lucky. I heard all about you when I was at the Montgomerys.”

“Ah!” exclaimed Hartley, “I remember so well the evening I first saw you at the Montgomerys’. I will never forget that dinner. Come on, Vivienne, promise me. I want you. Nobody else will ever give you such a happy home.”

Vivienne didn’t answer. Suddenly Hartley was suspicious. “Tell me, Vivienne, is there,” he asked, “is there – is there someone else?”

“You shouldn’t ask that, Mr. Hartley,” she said. “But I will tell you. There is one other person – but I haven’t promised him anything.”

“Vivienne,” said Hartley masterfully, “You must be mine.”

Vivienne looked him in the eye.

“Do you think for one moment,” she said calmly, “that I could come to your home while Héloïse is there?”

HOW TO BE A QUEUE WINNER

Do you know why the queues at the other checkouts in the supermarket always seem to move faster than yours? A new book by David Andrews, Why Does the Other Line Always Move Faster?, has the answer: because you only notice how fast the other queues are moving when yours is moving slowly. If your queue moves fast, then you won't notice the slower queues at all, because you're busy unloading your trolley, putting things into bags, and paying.

Of course another part of the answer is simple probability. If there are three queues in the supermarket and you join the middle one, there is a two in three chance that one of the other queues will be the fastest, whereas yours only has a one in three chance.

SO HOW CAN YOU BE A QUEUE WINNER?

According to Andrews, this is what you should do:

- 1 CHOOSE A QUEUE THAT HAS MORE MEN IN IT. Men are less patient than women, and sometimes give up and leave the queue if it's moving very slowly.
- 2 CHOOSE A QUEUE ON THE LEFT. Most people are right-handed, and choose queues on the right, so queues on the left are often shorter.
- 3 DON'T USE THE EXPRESS LANE. Lots of people with a few items can be slower than a few people with lots of items.
- 4 IF YOU CAN, CHOOSE A CHECKOUT WHICH IS 'CASH ONLY'. Using cash is usually quicker than paying by card.
- 5 DON'T THINK TOO MUCH! Sometimes it's best just to join the queue with the fewest people.

- a Look at all the photos in this lesson. Are you afraid of any of these things?
- b Read some information from fearof.net, a website about phobias. Complete each phobia with the correct heading from the list.

Fear of butterflies Fear of crowds

Fear of doctors Fear of driving Fear of heights

Some people with this phobia find it difficult to pass the test. Others are anxious on motorways or certain roads. In extreme cases, people are afraid of being a passenger in a vehicle.

Comment

People say that actress Nicole Kidman suffers from this phobia. It is closely linked to a general fear of insects. People with this phobia are afraid of most insects with wings, and they feel nauseous or they panic if they see them. Comment

This phobia is quite common in young children, but adults suffer from it, too. Many are especially afraid of having vaccinations or blood tests. Comment

This fear affects nearly one in every 20 adults. People with this phobia usually avoid tall buildings, skiing, or standing on balconies. Comment

This phobia affects many people, but women more than men. These people feel very anxious or scared if they are in a noisy place where there are a lot of people, for example a shopping mall or a sports stadium. They often avoid these kinds of places. Comment

- c Now read some comments posted on the website. Match comments A–E to fears 1–5.

A I am so scared that I haven't been to see one for more than 15 years. I hate thinking about them! I feel the same way about dentists, too. Carl

B I have a fear of going over bridges, and on motorways at over 60 mph. I'm OK at 45 mph. I once went over a bridge and I had to stop in the middle – I was really frightened. I haven't driven that way since then, and that was seven years ago. Becky

C I thought I was the only person that had this fear! I'm OK with the small ones, but I'm terrified of the big ones. I'm OK if they aren't close to me, but as soon as they start flying near me I run away. I like looking at pictures of them because they can be beautiful, but if they fly towards me, especially towards my face, I panic. Mina

D I suffer from this phobia, and what works best for me, if I know that I'm going to be in a situation where there'll be a lot of people, is to arrive early. Then other people arrive little by little, and that helps me. The worst thing is walking into a place that is already full of people. Simon

E I've had this phobia for about 20 years. It started when I was a child, about six I think. I had a bad dream where I was in a block of flats high up on a hill and I nearly fell out of the window. I woke up and started crying. I haven't been to any really high places since then. Even if I imagine I'm in a high place, I feel dizzy. Keith

- d Look at the highlighted words in the phobias and comments and match them to the definitions.

1 the noun made from the adjective afraid _____

2 one adjective which means very afraid _____

3 two synonyms for afraid _____, _____

4 an adjective for the feeling that everything is going round in circles _____

5 WRITING

- a Do you see people doing sport or exercise in your town or city? What do you see them doing?
- b Wp.119 Writing An article
Read about parkrun, and then write an article.

Why aren't women's sports as popular as men's?

Send us your thoughts

A I actually prefer watching women's tennis. Men usually hit the ball so hard, especially when they serve, that their opponent can't return it, so it's less exciting to watch.
RichSmith 12:22

B I think we should open up men's football to women. Then we could compare, person to person, how well each player performs, and teams could be made up of the best players, both men and women. That's true of most team sports, actually.
WayneKeys 12:27

C Women's sports that are identical to men's sports – football and basketball, for example – will never be as popular as men's, because men are faster, stronger and more athletic. On the other hand, sports that highlight the strengths of female athletes – tennis, gymnastics, ice skating – are popular. But it's interesting that none of those are team sports.
Brandi 15:02

D Brandi, I think you're right about the difference between team and individual sports. When I watch the Olympics (winter and summer), I enjoy the women's and men's individual events equally. The women probably run / swim / ski a bit slower than the men, but I can't really tell, and it's just as exciting.
Lynn228 15:12

E Most people want to watch the best sports people perform at the highest level. If you compare top male and female athletes, physical differences mean that women are always inferior athletes to men.
SimonB 12:58

F In men's football, the players fall over all the time and act like babies. The women don't do that. I've read research that says that women hardly ever pretend to be hurt. And when they are hurt, they get up again 30 seconds faster than men.

Phrasal verbs

Wake up, get up, go out, give up, etc. are common phrasal verbs (verbs with a preposition or adverb).

Sometimes the meaning of the two separate words can help you guess the meaning of the phrasal verb, e.g. go out. Sometimes the meaning of the two words does not help you, e.g. give up.

a Look at some things that Ella and Peter say. With a partner, explain what the highlighted verbs mean.

- 1 'The alarm goes off at 2.35.'
- 2 'I wake up on time because I have an alarm that repeats.'

BAD LOSERS?

The hardest lesson to learn in sport is how to lose like a true sportsperson, without blaming your defeat on others. Here are some famous moments when losing was just too hard...

In the 1982 German Grand Prix, Nelson Piquet was winning the race. He was trying to pass Eliseo Salazar (who was last in the race), but Salazar didn't let him go past him so Piquet crashed into Salazar. Piquet jumped out of his car and started trying to hit and kick Salazar (without much success!).

South Korean footballer Ahn Jung-Hwan scored the goal that sent Italy out of the 2002 World Cup when they beat them 2-1. But Jung-Hwan also played for the Italian football club Perugia. After the match, the president of the club, Luciano Gaucci, announced that the player's contract would not be renewed. 'That gentleman will never set foot in Perugia again,' Gaucci said. 'I have no intention of paying a salary to somebody who has ruined Italian football.' Gaucci later apologized, but Ahn Jung-Hwan left the club and never went back to an Italian club.

In the 2003 Athletics World Championship, the 100 metres runner Jon Drummond was disqualified for a false start. Drummond lay down on the track and began to cry. Two hours later his coach told journalists: 'He's still crying. We're making him drink water because he's becoming dehydrated.'

In the 2008 Beijing Olympics, Angel Matos of Cuba was trying to win a bronze medal in tae kwon do when the referee disqualified him for a technical error. Matos was furious, and after several minutes of arguing he kicked the referee in the head, and then attacked a Swedish judge. He was immediately banned from all competitions for life.

In 2016, at the Olympics in Rio de Janeiro, the German men's football team lost to the host nation in the final. Brazil won their first ever Olympic gold medal in the event and the local fans were delighted. As they celebrated, one very disappointed German player, Robert Bauer, decided to show 7 fingers to the fans, to remind them of the time Germany beat Brazil 7-1 in the 2014 World Cup semi-final.

Fame Academy

Alex Turner lead singer and songwriter of Arctic Monkeys

Mark Coleman,
his PE teacher

Everyone liked Alex at school. He was very good at English. Mr Baker, his English teacher, really liked poetry, and I'm sure Alex was inspired by him because his song lyrics are incredible. But he didn't use to be very interested in music, he was much more interested in sports - he was possibly the best in the school at basketball. When he was 14 he broke his arm in my PE lesson. He was in hospital for a week, and we collected money and bought him a CD, so he was probably beginning to get interested in music. Everyone at the school is very proud of the band, and I'm sometimes invited to their concerts.

They grew up to become famous. But what were they like when they were at school? Did they already have that 'spark' that made them different? We asked their teachers.

J.K. Rowling author

John Nettleship,
her science teacher

Joanne was about 12 when I taught her. Her school days weren't very happy. The school was a bit like a prison, and then her mum, Anne, got seriously ill. Anne worked as my technician, and Joanne used to come and wait outside the science building for her mum, so that they could walk home together. She was obviously very worried about her mum. She was a very quiet child. I don't remember her ever answering a question. I think she was keeping all her experiences in her head to use later in her stories.

Joanne has said that no characters in Harry Potter are based more than 10% on a real person. So perhaps it's just a coincidence that I used to have long, black hair. But to be honest, I think Professor Snape, especially in the later books, is very like me.

Jude Law actor

Mike Jones, his housemaster

Jude was bullied at his first secondary school so he changed schools when he was 14 and came to us. He didn't know anybody, but that wasn't a problem for him. He adapted very quickly, which shows his confidence. He quickly started acting in school plays, and he used to get fantastic reviews in the school magazine. He was clever, but some teachers thought he was arrogant. Some of his classmates thought the same and he wasn't very popular with them. Other boys were jealous of him because the girls usually liked him.

1 READING & LISTENING

Cordelia and Ciara

Thomas and Toby

Niamh and Luisa

- a Look at the photos. One of them is of identical twins, but two of them are of complete strangers. Which one do you think is of twins?
- b Read about the project Twin Strangers and check your answers.

Two women recently met by chance at Bremen University, in Germany. One was English, and one was Irish, and they were both on Erasmus scholarships. Nothing unusual there, except for one thing. The two girls look identical. Their hair is the same colour and length, they're the same age and size, and when you see them together, in the photo they put on social media, you would think that they were identical twins. In fact, Cordelia Roberts and Ciara Murphy are unrelated.

It seems that it is not uncommon for people who are unrelated to look almost identical. Niamh Geaney, from Dublin, and two friends were so interested in trying to find their 'twins' that they set up an online project called Twin Strangers. Very quickly, Niamh found a remarkably similar-looking stranger who lived just a few miles away. It's perhaps not so surprising, as both young women look typically Irish, with dark hair and very pale skin, but then Niamh found another lookalike – Luisa Guzzardi, who is from Genoa in Italy!

FALSE ALARM

Last Sunday at about 2.00 a.m., police in Sydney, Australia, received several phone calls about shouting and loud noises that were coming from an apartment in a suburb of the city. The callers had heard a woman screaming, a man shouting 'I'm going to kill you! You're dead!', and somebody throwing furniture.

A police car went to the apartment immediately. A man opened the door. 'Where's your wife?' the officer asked. 'I don't have one,' the man replied. 'Where's your girlfriend?' 'I don't have one,' the man replied again.

The officer told the man that his neighbours had heard shouting and screaming.

'Come on, what have you done to her?' the officer asked.

'It was a spider,' the man replied. 'A really big one.'

'What about the woman who was screaming?'

'Yes, sorry, that was me,' the man said. 'I really, really hate spiders. I was trying to kill it.'

The police looked around the apartment and confirmed that nobody was hurt. Except the spider.

A woman in Worthing, West Sussex, got a big surprise yesterday when she opened a large box of DVDs that she had bought on eBay and a cat suddenly jumped out. The cat, called Cupcake, had got into the box eight days earlier, when her owner Julie Baggott was packing the box to send to her customer. Julie didn't notice that Cupcake had climbed into the box and fallen asleep.

Julie's customer called the RSPCA, who collected the cat and took it to a vet. Dr Ben Colwell, who treated Cupcake, said that she was very frightened and very thirsty – the cat had survived the 260-mile journey with no food or water. Luckily Cupcake had a microchip in her neck, so the vet found Julie's details and phoned her.

Julie had been very sad about losing her cat. She had put up posters and looked for Cupcake for days. 'I feel terrible,' said Julie. 'I put the DVDs in the box and I closed it straight away, so I don't know how she got in there. It was a miracle she was alive.'

An Argentinian family was driving home after a holiday in Brazil when the husband, Walter, made an unfortunate mistake. He stopped at a petrol station, filled up the car with petrol, and went to the toilet. But when he drove off, he didn't notice that his wife Claudia wasn't in the car.

Claudia had been asleep in the back seat. While her husband was in the toilet, she woke up and went into the shop to buy some cookies, but when she came back outside she found that her husband had left without her. The couple's 14-year-old son didn't notice that his mother wasn't there because he was playing on his phone in the front seat.

Walter only realized his wife wasn't in the car after he'd driven 100 kilometres. Meanwhile, Claudia tried to phone him, but she couldn't get a signal, so she asked the petrol station manager for help. He contacted the local police, who took her to the police station.

Her husband eventually returned to pick her up two hours later. When he arrived, Claudia was so angry that all she could do was scream and kick the car.

Why was she so angry?

Because her husband had left her behind.

Stop the plane – we want to get on!

An Italian couple ran out onto the runway of Malta's international airport to stop a Ryanair jet from leaving for Italy without them, a Maltese court heard on Thursday.

Matteo Clementi, 26, and Enrica Apollonio, 23, got stuck in terrible traffic on their way to the airport on Wednesday. When they arrived, the gate was closed and they were not allowed to board their flight back to Italy. They went to the next gate, forced open a security door, and ran towards the plane. The engines were running and the stairs had been removed, but the couple tried signalling to the pilots to let them get on. However, they were not allowed to board and were arrested by security staff.

A lawyer defending them in court said that Wednesday was Enrica's 23rd birthday. She had wanted to celebrate it with her family and friends in Italy. Instead she spent the evening in prison, and the couple were fined €2,329.

From $20 to $1,000,000 in 30 minutes

A man who found $20 in the street near San Francisco International Airport used it to play the California lottery and won $1 million, lottery spokesman Greg Parashak said on Monday.

Hubert Tang used the $20 to buy two lottery scratch cards at a store near the airport on Wednesday and won the top prize with one of them, Parashak told us.

Tang said, 'I scratched the ticket outside the store. I told my friend who I was with that I didn't know if it was real but I thought I had just won a million dollars.' Tang, who works as a barman at the airport, had not played the lottery for the last ten years. He said that he planned to continue working and had not decided how to spend the money. But he said that he might leave $20 notes in different places so that other people could find them and be lucky like him.

- Read the article How to survive meeting your partner's parents for the first time. Then tell B the five tips and give more details. When you finish, decide with B which is the most important tip.

How to survive meeting your partner's parents for the first time

- 1 Do some 'homework' before you go. Ask your partner about his or her parents. Where do they work? Do you have any common interests? If you do this, it will be easy to have a conversation with them.
- 2 Be ready to answer questions about yourself! Most parents want to know about their son or daughter's future partner, for example about their ambitions. Try to make a good impression!
- 3 If you are invited for a meal, eat everything! It's also a good idea to say something positive about the meal, like 'This is absolutely delicious!' Offer to help with the washing-up after the meal.
- 4 Be yourself and don't just agree with everything they say. If they ask you for your opinion, be honest. However, try not to talk about controversial subjects – this isn't the moment to give your views on religion and politics!
- 5 Avoid embarrassing silences. If the conversation is dying and you can't think what to say, ask them what your partner was like as a child. All parents love talking about their children.

- B will tell you five tips for How to survive a first date (and make a success of it). Listen and when he or she finishes, decide together which is the most important tip.

9A WOULD YOU KNOW WHAT TO DO? Student A

- a Read the answers to In the city.

IN THE CITY

- 1 The answer is b. Dogs like to attack any part of you that is moving, usually hands or arms. It is also dangerous to turn your back on the dog. You shouldn't look the dog in its eyes because this will make it angry. Shouting 'down' or 'go 'away' at the dog will not work because dogs usually only react to their master's voice.
 - 2 The answer is a. Wasps and bees will usually fly out of an open window, but don't wave your hands around as they follow movement and might try to sting you. And you mustn't hit the wasp or bee as this will make them very angry. Of course, as soon as you can, you should stop the car and open the doors.

- b Tell B and C the correct answers, and why the other ones are wrong.
 - c Listen to B and C tell you about the other sections (In the country and In the water). Check your answers.

 - 2 How does she wake up on time?
 - 3 How does she feel when she wakes up?
 - 4 Does she have anything to eat or drink before she goes to work?
 - 5 How does she get to work?
 - 6 What time does she start and finish work?
 - 7 What time does she usually go to bed?
 - 8 Would she like to change her working hours?

The alarm goes off at 2.35 a.m. I use my phone, and my partner also sets the alarm on his phone, because I don't feel very secure if I just have one alarm. I get up straight away. I usually feel terrible! It's always really hard to get out of bed. Luckily I don't have to think about clothes, because I always wear a white chef's jacket and a pair of jeans.

I don't have breakfast – I just get dressed and go straight to work. I live very near the shop, so I walk to work – it only takes five minutes. I start baking at 3.00 a.m. I'm always desperate for a cup of tea, and as soon as I have time I make one. I can't really function without a cup of tea. I make all the bread and cakes between 3.00 and 8.30 – that's when I open the shop.

I usually finish work at about 3.00 in the afternoon, so I'm often at work for about 12 hours. I go to bed at 8.30. Because we go to bed so early, during the week we don't go out at all. I sometimes go out on a Saturday evening, but I feel exhausted the next day.

Would I like to change my working hours? Yes. I love my job, and I don't mind getting up early, but I would like to sleep more.

IN THE WATER

- 5 The answer is c. If a jellyfish stings you, you should clean the sting with vinegar as this stops the poison. If you don't have any vinegar, then use sea water. But don't use fresh water, for example water from a tap or mineral water, as this will make the sting hurt more. And you shouldn't rub the sting as this will make it worse too. After you have washed the sting, you should clean off any bits of tentacles that are on your skin. And take a painkiller!
- 6 The answer is a. If you are near the shore and the shark is not too close, you can probably swim to the shore without attracting its attention. For this reason it is important to swim smoothly and not to splash or make sudden movements. Keeping still is dangerous because if the shark swims in your direction it will see you and it will attack you. Don't shout because shouting will provoke the shark and it will attack you.

Is your score between 15 and 18? You are living life in the fast lane, rushing around and trying to do many different activities and projects at the same time. - 2 Choose a place that isn't too expensive (you don't know who is going to pay). Try to go somewhere that isn't very noisy.
- 3 Don't be too romantic on a first date. For example, arriving with a red rose on a first date isn't a good idea!
- 4 Remember to listen more than you talk but don't let the conversation die. Silence is a killer on a first date! Be natural. Don't pretend to be somebody you aren't.
- 5 If you are a man, be a gentleman and pay the bill at the end of the evening. If you are a woman, offer to pay your half of the bill (but don't insist!).

- a Read the answers to In the country.

IN THE COUNTRY

- 3 The answer is c. If you tie a bandage or a piece of material above the bite, this will stop the poison from getting to your heart too quickly. However, be careful not to tie it too tightly. You shouldn't put ice or anything cold on the bite, as this will make it more difficult to get the poison out later, and never try to suck out the poison. If it gets into your mouth, it could go into your blood.
- 4 The answer is a. If you let your dog run free, the cows will go after it, but it will escape as it can run much faster than the cows. The worst thing you can do is pick up your dog, as the cows will probably attack both of you. And don't shout or wave your arms because this will worry the cows and could cause them to attack.

 - 5 How does he get to work?
 - 6 What time does he start and finish work?
 - 7 What time does he usually go to bed?
 - 8 Would he like to change his working hours?

The Peter Gordon Breakfast Show starts at exactly 6.00, so I need to be at work at 5.30 a.m. on weekday mornings. I'm lucky because I live very near the studio – it's only three to four minutes by car – so I get up at about 4.45. I wake up on time because I have an alarm that repeats, and I wear a Fitbit which vibrates as well. When that goes off I know that I really have to get up!

For the first few minutes I feel a bit sleepy, but then I wake up quickly. I choose my clothes the night before, and that way everything's ready. I have a cup of tea, and then I leave the house at about 5.15. I have breakfast during the radio show, while I'm playing music – perhaps a smoothie and some cereal. I'm a director of the radio station, so after my show I usually work in the office until late afternoon – it's a long working day!

I go to bed quite late, usually at about 11.00. I find it very difficult to go to bed early, it's always been a problem for me. So I only get about five or six hours' sleep – but that's enough for me. Because I get up early, I try not to go out with friends during the week. I only go to necessary events, like work events. Weekends are different!

I know I get up really early, but I don't want to change my hours because I really love my breakfast show, and I never want to give it up.

2 DESCRIBING A PHOTO

Post your favourite photo on the website, together with a short description of why the photo is important to you.

This week's winner is Marc, a teacher from Swansea.

1 This is one of my favourite photos. It's ¹ two storks. I took the photo ² the spring of 2018 when I was on holiday ³ some friends ⁴ Andalucia, in the south of Spain, at a place called Doñana National Park.

2 Doñana is a nature reserve which is famous because there are lots of wonderful birds there, ⁵ storks and flamingos. Storks are my favourite birds in the world because they're big birds, but they're very elegant. I love taking photos ⁶ animals and birds, but I'm not very good ⁷ it! Here I was learning how to use the zoom on my new camera, because the storks were quite far ⁸ from us on the top of a tree. I needed to keep very still because I didn't want to frighten them, but for the first time I got a really good close-up shot.

3 I love this photo because it was my first successful wildlife photo, and the blue sky reminds me of the wonderful weather in Andalucia. I have it ⁹ my phone and as the background on my laptop.

6 A BIOGRAPHY

- a Read the biography of Matt Damon. Then cover the text and try to remember three things about him.
- b Put the verbs in brackets in the past simple or present perfect.

Writing a biography – use of tenses

If you write a biography of a person who is dead, the verbs will all be in the past simple.

If the person is alive, all finished actions will be in the past simple (such as the person's early life, e.g. He was born, He went to university, etc. or specific actions in their life, e.g. He got married, He moved to another country, etc.).

However, you must use the present perfect for unfinished actions which started in the past and are still true now (and which might change), e.g. He has lived in Los Angeles since his wedding. (= he lives there now)

He has appeared in a lot of films. (= he might appear in more in the future)

Use the present simple (or present continuous) to talk about the present day, e.g. He lives in Los Angeles. He's working on a new film.

- c You're going to write a biography of someone you know, or a famous person, who is still alive. Plan and make notes for each paragraph before you begin.

|-------------|---|
| Paragraph 1 | where and when they were born, their early life (past simple) |
| Paragraph 2 | their life as a young adult (past simple) |
| Paragraph 3 | their later life and their life now (past simple, present perfect, present simple / present continuous) |

- d Write the biography. Write three paragraphs using your notes.
- e Check your biography for mistakes (grammar, punctuation, and spelling). Show your biography to other students in the class. Which of your classmates' biographies is the most interesting?

Why I love parkrun

Rachel Farrah

- 1 Parkrun organizes free five kilometre runs all over the world. Every Saturday morning, in the UK and in lots of other countries, people meet in a park and go for a run together. After the run you get a text message which tells you your time, so you can see that you're getting ¹ _____ and fitter.
- 2 I started doing parkrun three years ago. I was ² _____ and stressed, and a friend invited me to go to the ³ _____ run with him, in Princes Park here in Liverpool. I really didn't want to go at first, but after a few weeks I felt much better. Now I try to do it every Saturday, and I've done more than 100 runs since I started.
- 3 I love parkrun because of the people who do it – the atmosphere is really ⁴ _____, and it's much more fun and motivating to run with other people. I know that my running friends will be in the park at the same time every weekend, and that makes me get up and get out of the house.
- 4 It doesn't matter if you're old or ⁵ _____, male or female, fast or slow – if you want a ⁶ _____ start to the weekend, you should try it! And if there isn't a parkrun in your town or city, maybe you should start one!

My name's Elspeth. I'm 25, I'm a journalist, I live in Dublin, and I'm single. It's not easy to meet people here. So, who can help me? My mother...and a dating app. My favourite dating app, called Tinder, shows you photos of possible partners with a bit of information about them. You look at the photos and swipe, swipe, swipe. Swipe right if you like them, and swipe left...well...swipe left if you don't. If a guy likes you and you like him, you have a match. Then you can start messaging the person and from this, romance follows...or so they say. I've tried it, but with no success. So I decide to give my mother my phone. She can swipe all the men she likes, and then look at my matches and choose the people that she likes the best. I've promised to go on a date with the men she chooses.

Date 1 My first date is with a nice guy called John. I sit at a table in a bar and wait for him to arrive. An old man walks towards the table, and for two awful seconds I think it's all a terrible mistake, but he walks past and then my date arrives. He's very tall, 1.90. Well done, Mum! I'm tall myself, so I always look for tall men, as my mum knows well. We start chatting, and it's all very easy. Mum has good taste. He's a teacher. We get on well and it's a fun date, but sadly there isn't a spark. So I try again.

Date 2 I arrive a bit early again, and I sit there waiting for Sebastian to arrive. Suddenly I realize that I can't remember anything at all about him, not even where he's from. Then he comes through the door: tall, dark, and handsome. 'Mum, you're amazing', I say to myself. He's from Germany, but he lives in Dublin. He's a real gentleman. At the end of the evening, he asks for a second date. Mum is very pleased. I agree to the date, but I don't really think it's going to work.

Date 3 Date number three is George. He suggests a bar on South William Street. I arrive early – I'm definitely the most punctual person in the world. I stand outside, very confused: the bar is closed. For a moment I think Mum has finally got it wrong. But a few minutes later he arrives – he just didn't know the bar was closed. We go somewhere else and start chatting. He tells me he works in IT and is from just outside Dublin. This guy is great fun. He's very relaxed and interesting – he's travelled a lot. He tells a lot of funny stories. It's all going well, and I'm getting very enthusiastic, when my phone pings.

Johannes Vermeer was a seventeenth-century painter from the city of Delft in Holland. He mainly painted the people and things he saw around him: the rooms in his house, the people who lived or worked there (usually women), and the things they did every day. For example, in his work you will see women who are playing music, reading or writing letters, or working in the kitchen. Vermeer was especially good at painting light coming into a room through windows. Partly for this reason, people often describe his work as being like photography or film – his paintings can seem very 'real'.

This painting, The Milkmaid, is one of these very 'photographic' images. The woman, a maid or a servant, is pouring milk into a bowl. Perhaps she's making a bread and milk pudding, because there are pieces of broken bread on the table. Nobody knows if the woman he painted was a real servant or a model. However, most people think Vermeer usually painted his wife, his daughter, and his servant, not models. A famous book and film, called Girl with a Pearl Earring, inspired by one of his best-known paintings, is an imaginary story about Vermeer and his relationship with his young servant. People admired Vermeer's paintings a lot in his lifetime, but he was never rich. There are two reasons for this. First, because he painted very slowly. Today there are only 34 paintings which we can be sure are by him. Second, because he used very expensive paints. The blue paint he used for the Milkmaid's apron was made of lapis lazuli, which was a very expensive stone.

People loved this painting from the very beginning, and although it is very small, only 46 by 41 centimetres, 20 years after Vermeer died, somebody bought the painting for 175 Dutch guilders. That was an enormous amount of money for the time.

Marta's story This happened two years ago. I'm Spanish, but I was in Ireland at the time because I had a job in Dublin. Some friends of mine who lived in Lyon, in France, invited me to come and stay, so I decided to have a short holiday, a long weekend, from Friday to Tuesday. I looked for cheap flights, but I couldn't find any direct ones. The only thing I could find was Ryanair from Dublin to Brussels and then Air France from Brussels to Lyon.

Anyway, the flight to Brussels was fine, and when I arrived I went to the gate for my next flight to Lyon, but then when I needed to show my boarding pass and my ID, I couldn't find my ID card. I looked everywhere, in my bag, in my case, but it wasn't there. The people at the gate were very nice and they made some phone calls, but nobody could find it. So they told me to wait in a small room and I sat there for more than an hour, and my flight to Lyon left without me. It was awful – I cried – I was so stressed and unhappy. In the end, a policeman came and he said that I couldn't go to France because I didn't have any ID – the only place I could go was to Spain to get a new ID card! I waited another five or six hours for the flight to Madrid, feeling very depressed.

So I never had my holiday! I spent the weekend in Madrid getting my new ID card!

1 Anya This is me and my mum in York. It was my first term at university, and she came to visit me, and I took her on a tour round the city.

Friend Is that, er, the cathedral there?

Anya Yes – well, it's called York Minster, but it's really a cathedral.

2 Anya And this one's on the beach in Cornwall with my boyfriend, Ollie. I was staying with him in the Easter holidays, and he took me to the beach and we went for a walk.

Friend It looks windy!

Anya Yes, it was really windy and cold. I think we were the only people on the beach!

3 Friend Nice photo! I like the moustache.

Anya Yeah, that's me and my friend Maisie. We were doing a music course – I do it twice a year, and this was at the party at the end of the course.

Friend Why the moustaches and the picture frame?

Anya There was this corner that the teachers made where people could take funny photos with the big frame, and hats and moustaches and things.

4 Anya OK, this one is me and two of my best friends – we were at school together. One of them, Libby, the one on my right, has a house by the river, and we went there in September before we all went to university.

5 Friend That's a nice photo. In Rome, I guess?

Anya Yes, I was there for a holiday with my mum the summer before I went to university. She took this when we were visiting the Colosseum – as you can see.

6 Friend That's your mum again, isn't it?

Anya Yes, that's her and her partner, and my sister Roz, on the river in Oxford. My mum's birthday is in July and every year we go punting and then we go for dinner. We were all drinking champagne, and Roz was doing the hard work!

Friend Are any of the photos selfies?

Anya Yes, the one of me and my Mum and the one on the beach!

Anna Hello Mr Bevan. I'm Anna, your tour guide.
Jake Hi. Please, call me Jake.
Anna OK, Jake. Nice to meet you. How was the flight? Are you very tired?
Jake No, I'm fine.
Anna Great. Let's go to the car park then. Is it your first time here?
Jake Yeah. I was in Europe when I was a student, but somehow I never got here.
Anna And your final destination is London, is that right?
Jake Yes. I'm going to give a talk at a conference in Oxford.
Anna So work, not pleasure?
Jake Yes – well, maybe some pleasure, too. I have a friend, well, an ex-girlfriend really, who I was with when I was a student. She's British – she lives in Oxford – and we're planning to meet up.
Anna That's nice! OK, so now I'm going to tell you a bit about our tour today. We're going to drive to the centre – it takes about 45 minutes – and then we're going to start at the Colosseum.
Jake Great. I've always wanted to see it.
Anna And then we're going to visit the Forum. After that, we're going to see the Pantheon – one of the oldest buildings in the city.
Jake Wow.
Anna So then we are very near the Via del Corso, where all the best shops are. Would you like to maybe do some shopping?
Jake Well, I'd like to see the shops but I'm probably not going to buy anything.
Anna Maybe a little present, a present for your friend in Oxford?
Jake Well, maybe.
Anna And then I'm sure you're going to be hungry, so I'm going to take you to a really nice restaurant for lunch. We can have pizza, or a good carbonara, a gelato – an ice cream, that is. Our typical dishes, but I promise you, very different from Italian food in America.
Jake Sounds great. And then back to the airport, I guess?
Anna That's right. We need to allow time for that.
Jake Yes, I don't want to miss my flight.
Anna Don't worry. We do this tour every day – and nobody has ever missed their flight.
Jake Is it going to be very hot today?
Anna No, not too hot. It's going to be nice, about 22 degrees.
Jake Perfect. It's going to be a fantastic day.
Anna Here we are. If you can just wait a minute while I pay for the parking. Oh, Mr Bevan – Jake – is this yours?
Jake My passport! Thanks, Anna. Typical me. I always lose things when I'm travelling.

Sarah Hello?
Jake Sarah?
Sarah Hi Jake.
Jake Hi. Great to hear your voice! How are things?
Sarah Fine, fine. How was the journey? When did you arrive in the UK?
Jake Last night. The journey was fine. I got a cheap flight with Alitalia, but it meant a long stopover in Rome, but I went on a guided tour and I had a great time.
Sarah That sounds like fun. What did you think of Rome?
Jake Fantastic. I loved it. So when can we meet?
Sarah I'm afraid I'm really busy this week. The only possible day for me is Tuesday. I'm going to London from Wednesday to Friday...
Jake Tuesday. Let me look at my calendar.
Sarah Wow, Jake, you put things in your calendar! You're much more organized than when we were going out.
Jake Well, I'm better than I was. But I nearly lost my passport when I was in Rome. OK, Tuesday. I'm not free in the evening. I'm having dinner with Mark Taylor, my old professor. Do you remember him? It's at 7.30. I can't change that. How about lunch?

Sarah It depends on the time. A late lunch would be OK, around 1.45?
Jake The problem is I'm giving my talk at 2.00. And I'm having a breakfast meeting at 8.15 with some colleagues.

Sarah Well, morning coffee or tea in the afternoon then. What are you doing then?

Jake Let's see... I'm going to a talk about climate change at 4.00. So, I think maybe morning coffee is best. And then we can try to arrange another time.

Sarah OK. There's a nice coffee bar in the High Street called The Grand Café. Meet there at 11.00?

Jake Perfect. I'm really looking forward to it.

Sarah Me too. Bye.

I'm lazy, but I like living in a clean tidy home. Maybe you're the same. It doesn't matter if you live by yourself, with a partner, or with a group of friends. You're always going to have to do some housework. Learn a few cleaning tricks and you can have a clean home – and still have plenty of time to relax and do nothing.

Tip 1. Clean quickly but often.

Clean for just ten minutes twice a day. This gives you time to, for example, load the dishwasher and do one other thing like vaccuming. Set an alarm on your phone to motivate yourself.

Tip 2. Keep cleaning products in the right place.

Put cleaning products near the place where you need them. Keep bathroom cleaners in the bathroom, keep bin bags by the bin, and keep dishwasher tablets on top of the dishwasher. Sometimes you don't clean if you can't immediately see what you need, and you don't want to look for it.

Tip 3. Clean the microwave regularly.

You probably use this every day and it gets dirty quickly, believe me. But cleaning it is super easy. All you need to do is pour a little water into a microwave safe bowl, slice a lemon in half and squeeze the juice into the water. Then, put the two halves of the lemon in the bowl and microwave on high for three minutes. Leave the door closed for another five minutes, and then clean the inside with a cloth.

Tip 4. Use your dishwasher to clean other things.

If you have a dishwasher it's probably already your best friend. But did you know that it can clean much more than just kitchen things? You can use it to clean all kinds of things made of plastic like toys, or even flip flops or other plastic shoes, and also for things made of metal like tools, or keys.

Tip 5. Tell people to take off their shoes when they come in.

If you hate vacuuming, but you also hate the floor because you don't do the vaccuming, there's an easy solution – tell your housemates and guests take off their shoes at the front door. And if they forget or refuse, give them the vacuum cleaner.

Tip 6. Use your socks to clean the floor.

If you have a hard floor, like wood or stone, for example, make your socks work for you. Take your shoes off, and slide across a different part of your floor each time you move across it. It'll soon be completely clean. Then, just throw your socks in the washing machine.

And finally tip 7. Listen to music while you clean. Sometimes you really need to do some housework that you hate, like ironing or cleaning the bathroom. Put on your favourite playlist and focus on the music, not the boring housework.

And one last word. Many people say that lazy people are often the best employees, because they find the most efficient way to complete a task. That's the way you need to think when you're cleaning. Good luck!

1 I spend much less time shopping – that is going to real shops – than in the past because now I get so much online. I buy most of my food online – everything except fresh things like meat or fruit and vegetables. Er, I get books from Amazon, I buy a lot of clothes online. And it's so quick. You don't have to go there, you don't spend as long looking for what you want. It's just much, much quicker. I definitely prefer it.

2 One of the things that has changed for me is getting to work. It takes me much longer now because I cycle. A few years ago I drove, I took the car, but then I decided to cycle, not always because I enjoy it, but because I know it's healthier. It takes me about half an hour to get to work now. Actually, when the weather's good I really enjoy it, but when it's raining or just cold and horrible, I get up and I think oh no!

3 I definitely spend a lot more time cooking now than I did before, I think because, er, about a year ago I started living with my boyfriend. When I lived alone, in the evening I was tired and I just got a takeaway, or made something really quickly, or just had some bread and cheese or whatever was in the fridge, whatever was easier. But when you have someone else in the house you feel more like cooking. And also my boyfriend's a vegetarian, so it's a bit more complicated to do something very quick. So before I spent about 20 minutes a day and now I spend about an hour. But I'm quite happy with that, I enjoy it.

4 I probably spend about the same amount of time working as I did three years ago. I'm a freelance writer now and three years ago I had an office job so I was doing, you know, 35 hours a week. Now some weeks I probably work about 50 hours and others 20 hours, but on average I think it's about the same.

5 I definitely spend less time seeing friends because two years ago we moved to the country from the city – and most of our friends are in the city and they're quite a long way away from us now. Sometimes they come and spend the weekend with us or we go and spend the weekend with them, but on average I definitely spend less time with them.

Interviewer Today we're talking about a very interesting experiment to find the most and least honest cities in the world. It involved journalists travelling to 16 cities and 'losing' 12 wallets in each city, then waiting to see how many people returned them in each place. Our presenter Oliver has got the results. So, Oliver, which was the most honest city?

Oliver Well, in first place was Helsinki, in Finland.

People returned 11 of the 12 wallets. A businessman, who found the wallet in the city centre, said that Finnish people were naturally honest. He said there was very little corruption in Finland, and that people didn't even drive through red traffic lights!

Interviewer Really? And the least honest?

Oliver Well, I was quite surprised by this, but the least honest city, in 16th place, was Lisbon in Portugal. Only one person phoned to say they'd found the wallet. And he wasn't Portuguese, he was a 60-year-old tourist from Holland.

Interviewer Interesting! What other results surprised you?

Oliver Well, I expected richer cities, cities with a higher standard of living, to be more honest than poorer ones, but this wasn't necessarily true. The city that came second in the experiment was Mumbai in India – people returned 9 out of the 12 wallets. One of them was a young mother. She took it to a post office and she said 'I teach my children to be honest, just like my parents taught me.'

Interviewer And which city came next?

Oliver In joint third place were New York and Budapest. People gave back eight wallets in both places.

Interviewer And then?

Oliver Moscow and Amsterdam came joint fifth. In both places 7 out of 12 wallets were returned. And people gave lovely reasons for returning them. In Moscow a woman said 'I think that people need to help each other, and if I can make someone a little happier, I want to do it.' And in Amsterdam a man said 'My wife once lost her wallet. It was found and returned. So, I wanted to do the same.'

Interviewer I notice my home city, London, is on the list. How did it do?

Oliver London was somewhere in the middle, joint ninth with Warsaw. Just five of the wallets were returned in each place. Interestingly, one of the people who returned a wallet in London was a Polish woman. When she found the wallet, she gave it to her boss. He – her boss – said to her, 'If you find money you can't be sure it belongs to a rich man – it might be the last bit of money a mother has to feed her family.'

Interviewer I think that's fantastic advice. So, were there any general conclusions? What did the experiment prove?

Oliver 47 per cent of the wallets were returned, so that's nearly half. And when we looked through the results we found that you couldn't predict who was going to be honest or dishonest. There was no common factor. Young people and old people both kept or returned wallets; men and women both kept or returned wallets; and as I said before, it didn't make any difference whether a city was rich or poor. So, our conclusion was that there are honest and dishonest people everywhere.

5.15

At least half of your daily liquids should come from water. About one-third (or three to four cups) can come from coffee or tea – but with no sugar. Low-fat milk can make up another 20 per cent. If you drink less milk, just try to get your calcium from another type of food or drink, for example, green vegetables. You can have one small glass of fruit juice a day, and no more than one to two alcoholic drinks for men or one for women. However, some doctors now think that it's a good idea to have several alcohol-free days a week. Diet drinks which use artificial sweeteners are not good for you, but up to one to two glasses a day is OK. But try not to have any drinks with a lot of sugar, for example, sweet fizzy drinks.

6.7

Presenter Today's topic is 'positive thinking'. We all know that people who are positive enjoy life more than people who are negative and pessimistic.

But scientific studies show that positive people are also healthier. They get better more quickly when they are ill, and they live longer. A recent study has shown that people who are optimistic and think positively live, on average, nine years longer than pessimistic people. So, let's hear what you, the listeners, think. Do you have any ideas to help us be more positive in our lives?

Presenter Our first caller this evening is Andy. Hi, Andy. What's your tip for being positive?

Andy Hello. Well, I think it's very important to live in the present, not in the past. Don't think about mistakes you made in the past – you can't change things now. The important thing is to think about how you can do things better now and in the future.

Presenter Thank you, Andy. And now we have another caller. What's your name, please?

Julie Hi, my name's Julie. My tip is think positive thoughts, not negative ones. We all have negative thoughts sometimes, but when we start having them we need to stop and try to change them into positive ones. Like, if you have an exam tomorrow and you start thinking 'I'm sure I'll fail', then you'll fail the exam. So, you need to change that negative thought to a positive thought. Just think to yourself 'I'll pass that exam'. I do this and it usually works.

Presenter Thank you, Julie. And our next caller is Martin. Hi, Martin.

Martin Hi. My tip is don't spend a lot of time following the news online or on TV. It's always bad news and it just makes you feel depressed. Read a book or listen to your favourite music instead, and you won't feel so bad.

Presenter Thanks, Martin. Good tip! And our next caller is Miriam. Miriam?

Miriam Hi.

Presenter Hi, Miriam. What's your tip?

Miriam Every week, make a list of all the good things that happened to you, on your phone or on a piece of paper. Then if you're feeling a bit sad or depressed, read the list and it'll make you feel better.

Presenter Thanks, Miriam. And our last call is from Michael. Hi, Michael. We're listening.

Michael Hi. I think it's good to try to use positive language when you speak to other people. You know, if your friend has a problem, don't say 'I'm sorry' or 'Oh, poor you', say something positive like, 'Don't worry! Everything'll be OK.' That way you'll make the other person think more positively about their problem.

Presenter Thank you, Michael. Well, that's all we've got time for. A big thank you to all our callers.

Patient So what does it mean, Doctor?

Doctor Well, first the party. A party is a group of people. This means that you're going to meet a lot of people. I think you're going to be very busy.

Patient At work?

Doctor Yes, at work...you work in an office, I think?

Patient Yes, that's right.

Doctor I think the party means you're going to have a lot of meetings.

Patient What about the champagne?

Doctor Let me look at my notes again. Ah yes, you were drinking champagne. Champagne means a celebration. It's a symbol of success. So, we have a meeting or meetings and then a celebration. Maybe in the future you'll have a meeting with your boss, about a possible promotion?

Patient Well, it's possible. I hope so...What about the garden and the flowers? Do they mean anything?

Doctor Yes. Flowers are a positive symbol. So, the flowers mean that you are feeling positive about the future. So perhaps you already knew about this possible promotion?

Patient No, I didn't. But it's true, I am very happy at work and I feel very positive about my future. That's not where my problems are. My problems are with my love life. Does my dream tell you anything about that?

Doctor Mmm, yes it does. You're single, aren't you?

Patient Yes, well, divorced.

Doctor Because the violin music tells me you want some romance in your life – you're looking for a partner perhaps?

Patient Yes, yes, I am. In fact I met a woman last month – I really like her...I think I'm in love with her. I'm meeting her tonight.

Doctor In your dream you saw an owl in a tree?

Patient Yes, an owl...a big owl.

Doctor The owl represents an older person. I think you'll need to ask this older person for help. Maybe this 'older person' is me? Maybe you need my help?

Patient Well, yes, what I really want to know is does this person, this woman...love me?

Simon When I was about 30, I got a job as an editor in a publishing company. It was my first office job, and, um, I didn't really know what to wear, but, um, for the interview I wore a suit, in fact, I bought the suit specially for the interview. I got the job, so I thought that must be OK, so, um, on the first day I went to work wearing a suit and a tie. I got to work early, um, I wanted to make a good impression, and I was the first person in the office, so I went in, I found my desk, with my name on it, and I sat down and there were a few papers and documents for me to read, so I started reading those. I turned on my computer, and after about ten, fifteen minutes the other people in the office started to arrive and I noticed that nobody else was wearing a suit, and I thought, OK it's not a big problem. So I introduced myself to the other people, I said 'Hello, how are you? Hello, pleased to meet you' and the next thing someone said to me was 'My computer's really slow, do you think you know what the problem is?' and I said 'No, no, not really.' So then I introduced myself to somebody else and said 'Hello, nice to meet you' and she replied 'Hello, nice to meet you' and then she said 'Do you know how I can connect my computer to the printer?' and I said 'No, I have no idea how to do that.' Anyway, I went back to work and about half an hour later I had a meeting with my boss, and she said 'How's it going?' and I said 'Yeah, it's all good, everybody seems really nice. Just one thing, why does everybody think I can fix their computer?' and she looked at me and what I was wearing and she said 'It's your suit. Nobody in this office ever wears a suit, so they think you're from the IT department and you've come to help with a computer problem. They're the only ones who wear suits!' So, I never wore it again. To this day.

Claire It was my first day at work as a teacher at a language school, and they asked me to come the first week of term to observe some teachers, to watch their lessons, and then I was going to start teaching the following week. But when I arrived there they told me that one of the teachers was ill and they asked me to take the class, and it was three-year-old kids! So, I was in a class with about ten three-year-olds who were running around – my boss gave me a storybook to read to them, but the kids couldn't speak any English. I'd never taught – never been trained to teach children that small. I tried to read the book to two of them, but the others were running around shouting and hitting each other, and at the worst possible moment, just when all of them were being really noisy and not doing anything I was telling them to, my boss – the director of the school – opened the door and just looked at me. I felt terrible but then she said 'These children are too young for you, aren't they?' and I said yes, I was nearly crying. Luckily after that she never gave me any classes with really young children, but it was the most stressful class I've ever tried to teach.

Presenter The capital city of Estonia, Tallinn, is one of the most beautiful cities on the Baltic coast. It's one of the world's 'smart cities', which means that technology plays an important role in people's lives and in business.

But some people in Tallin are using the internet for something very unusual. It's called the Bank of Happiness, but it's a very different kind of bank. Nobody pays money into the bank, and the bank doesn't lend money to anybody. Instead, the Bank of Happiness is a forum where thousands of people from Estonia, and other countries too, connect with each other, and they offer or receive services completely free of charge.

Here's how it works: you register and then you post what you are offering or what you need – it's really easy. For example, people offer to do the shopping for somebody, or walk their dog. Other people post things like 'I need someone who can fix my car' or 'Can anybody translate an email into French for me?'. But the most important thing is that nobody pays any money. Everything is free. The bank was started over five years ago by a 39-year-old Estonian woman called Airi Kivi. She's a psychologist and a family therapist, and her goal was to make people think and act with their hearts.

Airi I thought, we need something like this Bank of Happiness, where people can meet each other and help each other – do something cool. The Estonian economy was also having problems at the time. A little bit later, I thought, wow, the Bank of Happiness is perfect for this economic crisis. A lot of people are unemployed and they can use our bank. In the Bank of Happiness people don't need to pay each other back. For example, a teenager will do the shopping for his old neighbour, and maybe the neighbour can't do anything for him in return. But then perhaps the neighbour will post a comment on the site and tell people about what the teenager did, and then another person who sees this will probably do something to help the teenager. The principle of the bank is that it's not money and things that make people happy. What really makes them happy is doing things for other people.

Max I arrived at Madrid airport, where I met Paula. Hola. Soy Max.

Paula Encantada. Soy Paula.

Max Paula took me to my hotel and that evening we went to the centre of Madrid and it was time for my first test. I had to order a sandwich and a drink in a bar, then ask for the bill. I sat down at the bar and I tried to order a beer and a ham sandwich. Por favor, una cerveza y un bocadillo de jamón.

Waiter En seguida.

Max Fantastic! The waiter understood me first time. My pronunciation wasn't perfect, but I got my beer and my sandwich. I really enjoyed it. But then the more difficult bit. Asking for the bill... Cuanto es?

Waiter Seis noventa.

Max Cómo?

Waiter Seis noventa.

Max Six ninety. I understood! Paula gave me eight points for the test. I was very happy with that. Next, we went out into the street. Test number two was asking for directions and (very important!) understanding them. We were in a narrow street and I had to stop someone and ask them for the nearest chemist, una farmacia. I stopped a woman. At first I didn't understand anything she said!

Passer-by Siga todo recto y tome la segunda por la derecha. Hay una farmacia en esa calle.

Max I asked the woman to speak more slowly.

Passer-by Todo recto y tome la segunda calle por la derecha DERECHA.

Max I got it this time, I think. The second street on the right. I followed the directions and guess what? There was a chemist there! Seven points from Paula.

Test number three. I wasn't looking forward to this one. I had to get a taxi to a famous place in Madrid. Paula wrote down the name of the place on a piece of paper. It was the name of the football stadium where Real Madrid play. We stopped a taxi. El Bernabeu, por favor.

Taxi driver Qué? Adónde?

Max He didn't understand me. I tried again, but he still didn't understand. I was desperate, so I said Real Madrid, Stadium, football.

Taxi driver Ah, El Santiago Bernabéu.

Max Finally! Paula only gave me five because I ended up using English. Still, at least I made the taxi driver understand where I wanted to go. And so to the final test. I had to leave a message in Spanish on somebody's voicemail. I had to give my name, spell it, and ask the person to call me back. Paula gave me the number (it was one of her friends called Lola) and I dialled. I was feeling a bit nervous at this point, because speaking on the phone in a foreign language is never easy.

Lola Deje su mensaje después de la señal.

Max Er. Buenas noches. Soy Max. Max. M-A-X. Er... Por favor... llámarme esta noche.... Oh yes... a las 8.30 er, gracias. Well, my grammar wasn't right, but I left the message. Half an hour later, at half past eight Lola phoned me. Success! Paula gave me eight points. That was the end of my four tests. Paula was pleased with me. My final score was seven. I was quite happy with that. So how much can you learn in a month? Well, of course you can't learn Spanish in a month, but you can learn enough to survive if you are on holiday or on a trip. Now I want to go back to England and try and learn some more. Adiós!

Hi Tracey. You know the answer to your last question, and it's 'yes'. You're making your life more difficult. But it's also true that having a long-term relationship with anyone is difficult, and in your case you can at least see what some of the problems are. I'm sure this man loves you and will support you in all your goals in life, but it's true that he's already done all the things you want to do. It's not his fault, but it means that he'll never get as excited as you about, for example, a wedding or having another child. And everything you experience together he'll probably compare to the last time he did it. You should think carefully about what kind of partner you really want: someone who can support you and show you the way in life, or someone who will discover life with you. You shouldn't make a decision in a hurry. When you're clearer about what you want, then you can decide if you're going to stay with this man or not. Good luck!

Annabel Hello. I'm Annabel.

Peter And I'm Peter.

Expert Hi there, Annabel and Peter. What's your problem?

Annabel We've got a son, Jamie, and he's 25. He's a chef.

Peter But he still lives with us because he says it's too expensive to rent a flat and he doesn't earn enough money.

Annabel He gives us some money every month for bills – not much, but a bit – and, you know, it's nice to have him at home, but we think he needs to be more independent.

Peter Yes, absolutely.

Annabel But last week he told us that he's planning a two-week holiday to Mexico with his friends. I mean, it's true that he works full-time and we know he needs a break, but we really think...

Peter Yes, we don't think he should go on an expensive holiday when he doesn't give us much money. We think he should save his money, so that he can get his own place to live. Should we tell him that he can't go to Mexico?

8.6

Expert You know, to be honest I think you're being a bit hard on him. I mean, he's only 25. It's good that he has a job and everybody needs a holiday. My advice is that you should let him go to Mexico, but when he comes back you should sit down with him and talk to him about starting to pay rent. That way he'll understand that he needs to start planning for the future and to start thinking about renting a flat. But I know from talking to other parents that there are a lot of young people still living at home in their 20s and 30s, and some of them don't even have jobs. So, in many ways I think you're lucky.

Annabel You see? That's just what I think...

8.7

Nick Hi there. I'm Nick.

Expert Hi Nick. So what's your problem?

Nick Well, I've been with my girlfriend for three years. We have a really great relationship although we're quite different. She's clever and popular and I'm, er, quiet and hard-working. Anyway, now she wants to move to London, because she thinks she can get a better job there, and she wants me to go to London too – you know, London's much more exciting than Bolton, where we live now. But I have a good job in Bolton and I get a good salary. I mean the idea of moving and having a new life is like a dream, but for me that's what it is, I mean it's a dream, it isn't real. What should I do? Should I follow my heart and move to London with her? Or should I stay here where I know I have a good job, but possibly lose my girlfriend?

Expert I think you should sit down together and talk about your dreams for the future, and see if they are the same dreams. If they are, and you can see a future together, then the first thing is for her to look for a job in London. If she finds one, then maybe she can move there first and you can go at weekends and see how you feel about life there.

Nick Thanks a lot for that. I think that's really good advice.

Jane Hello. My name's Jane.

Expert Hi Jane. Why are you calling?

Jane Well, a month ago my friend Susan and I decided to go on holiday together this summer, to Turkey. So we planned everything and, er, I was really looking forward to it as Susan's an old friend and I don't see her very often. But the other day she told me that she was telling another friend of hers about our holiday, somebody I don't know, a woman called Angie, and Angie was really interested, and now Susan has invited her to come, too. Susan never asked me what I thought! I don't even know Angie, and I really don't want to go on holiday with someone I don't know. What should I do?

Expert I think your friend has been a bit insensitive and she's put you in a difficult position. You have several different options. You could say that you aren't going if Angie goes, but then you'll put Susan in a difficult position. Or you could just cancel, and suggest having another holiday later with just the two of you. Or you could invite someone else who you like, and then there would be four of you, which is sometimes a better number than three. But in fact, you don't know Angie and maybe you'll like her. So, I think you should try to get to know her first. If you like her, then the holiday will probably be a success. If not, then you should tell your friend you aren't going, because you don't think it will work with Angie. You know, a bad holiday is worse than no holiday.

Peter I did maths at university and normally, after doing maths at university, people get a job in a bank or in IT, but when I finished it was the recession and it was very difficult to get a job. I was unemployed for quite a long time. I was looking for jobs, and I applied for lots of different jobs, but they just answered 'sorry, we don't want you', and I was getting a bit depressed. This went on for about four months and then one day I was on a number 49 bus in London – I can even remember where I was sitting – and my phone rang. I said hello, and a woman said 'Hello, you applied for a job with us a few months ago. Are you still interested?'. So I said, yes, absolutely, I'm very interested. So then she said 'we'd like you to come for an interview...' and then at that moment we got cut off because the bus went into a tunnel. And the phone number wasn't on my phone – it just said 'unknown number', and I couldn't remember what the name of the company was because I'd applied for so many jobs. So, I thought 'four months of nothing and then when they ring I get cut off'. Luckily they called back the next day, and in the end I had an interview, and I got the job.

Sue This happened when I was at a conference in Thailand. The conference hotel was amazing, it was in a beautiful national park called Khao Yai, north of Bangkok. We were very busy with talks and meetings most of the time, but we had one free morning, and we could choose from different trips or activities. I was interested in either a trip to see birds or a trip to see a tiger. A tiger, not tigers, because they told us that there was only one tiger in the whole park! Well, I chose the tiger trip, because I thought it would be really cool to see a tiger in the wild. But we had to leave really early in the morning, because we had to travel quite a long way to the part of the park where the tiger usually was – the bird trip was nearer the hotel. So, we tiger-watchers got up at 5.00 in the morning, but our guide said that we probably wouldn't see the tiger, because you know, there was only one tiger. We finally got there and we spent the whole morning looking for the tiger, but no luck. But we saw some nice birds, and it was fun, so when we got back to the conference hotel, we felt we'd had a really good morning. But then the other group got back, the ones who went to see the birds, and of course they saw lots of amazing birds, but they also saw the tiger! I suppose that day it wasn't in its usual part of the park. And I thought isn't that typical – you go on the tiger trip and you don't see the tiger, but the people on the bird trip see the tiger!

Presenter So David, what are the five most dangerous animals in the UK? Can you tell us in reverse order, I mean, starting with the fifth most dangerous?

David Yes, of course. At number five is a snake, the adder. The adder is the only poisonous snake in the UK. They can be about one metre long and they're quite common in some parts of the UK. They don't normally attack people, except when people step on them by accident. A bite from an adder can be very painful, and, occasionally, can kill. However, the last death from an adder bite was more than 40 years ago.

Presenter And number four?

David The fourth most dangerous animals in the UK are cows. People think cows are slow and a bit stupid, but in fact, cows kill at least one person every year. However, nearly all attacks happen when people are walking dogs in a field of cows, and they usually happen in spring or early summer when young cows are with their mothers. So, that's when you need to be careful.

Presenter And third?

David In third place are red deer. These are large animals – they can weigh 100 kg. You need to be especially careful in the autumn, when the male deer can get very aggressive. They also cause frequent accidents on the road by running out in front of cars – there are about 50,000 car accidents a year which involve deer.

Presenter And in second place?

David Dogs. They are responsible for around 200,000 attacks a year in the UK, although most of them aren't serious and very few actually cause death. Certain breeds of dog like German shepherds, Rottweilers, and Pit bulls, are more aggressive than others. One reason for this is that they were traditionally hunting dogs or guard dogs. Dog attacks can happen at any time, and some dogs even attack their owners.

Presenter And in first place?

David Wasps and bees. They cause more deaths in the UK than any other type of animal or insect. About five people a year die from bee or wasp stings, and it's nearly always because they have an allergic reaction. About 25 per cent of the population in the UK have a bee or wasp allergy, some more serious than others. However, people are usually allergic to either bees or wasps, but not both. Bees and wasps only sting in self-defence or when they're provoked, but wasps are more aggressive than bees. So, if you ever see a wasp nest in your garden, make sure you call a professional to come and destroy it.

Presenter Definitely. Well David, that was certainly...

Interviewer Do you have any phobias?

Julia Yes, I'm very, very scared of spiders.

Interviewer And how long have you had this phobia?

Julia I've had it since I was about 12, so for more than 30 years.

Interviewer Did something happen to start the phobia?

Julia I remember – and it's when I think I started being frightened – I remember a very big spider in the flat that we lived in at the time coming out from under the television and going across the room, and me being absolutely terrified, and that's the first time I remember being scared.

Interviewer How does it affect your life?

Julia In the past it was really awful. I mean I couldn't sit in the same room as a spider, and I always had to keep all the doors and windows shut because I was frightened that spiders might come in. But I had some therapy, and I can now sit in the same room as a spider, not for long, it still has to be moved, and I can put it in a glass now and take it outside myself, if I have to, if there's nobody else there, so it doesn't affect me as badly as it did before, but I still don't like them...

Interviewer What kind of therapy did you have? How long did it take?

Julia Probably about six weeks. I went to the therapist's office and he used a kind of hypnosis. He made me go back to that first incident with the spider and the TV and we talked about it again and again until it wasn't so frightening, and then in the last session he brought in a spider in a jar, into the room and he made me hold the jar – I couldn't put the spider on my hand, but that was a great improvement, because before I couldn't even look at a drawing of a spider in a children's book, and I certainly couldn't look at photos of spiders.

Interviewer Wow. Amazing.

Interviewer Do you have any phobias?

Chloe Erm, yes, I have a phobia of buttons.

Interviewer Buttons on clothes?

Chloe Yes. I don't like touching them.

Interviewer And how long have you had the phobia?

Chloe All my life, I think. For as long as I can remember.

Interviewer Do you know what happened to start the phobia?

Chloe I don't know exactly, but my mum has told me that when I was very little, about six or seven months old, she tried to dress me in a cardigan, a woollen cardigan with buttons that my grandmother had made for me, and apparently I screamed and screamed until she took it off again.

Interviewer OK. And how does the phobia affect your life?

Chloe It really affects the kind of clothes I can buy, especially in the winter when I need a coat – there aren't many coats that don't have buttons. But it's better than it was, when I was younger I refused to wear anything that had buttons, so, for example, my mother had to adapt my school uniform so that there were no buttons.

Interviewer Have you had any therapy?

Chloe No, no. I haven't had any therapy. It seems such a silly thing to be afraid of.

Interviewer What about if other people are wearing clothes with buttons on, is that OK?

Chloe Well, if the buttons aren't touching me that's fine, but I don't like hugging people that have buttons on their clothes.

Presenter Good evening and welcome to Family, the programme where we discuss issues concerning parents and children. Last week we talked about children following their parents into the same job, and whether children of celebrities have an easier life than other children. Today we're going to look at a celebrity son who did something different, and has been successful without the help of his famous father. Duncan Jones may not be a name you recognize if you're not a serious cinema fan. Duncan Jones is his real name, but when he was very young, he was called Zowie Bowie. His father was the famous singer David Bowie, whose real surname was Jones. Zowie was actually Duncan's middle name.

Duncan was born in the UK in 1971. When he was nine his parents divorced, and Duncan stayed with his father. He continued to visit his mother, David Bowie's first wife Angie, until he was 13, but their relationship wasn't a happy one and he hasn't seen her since then.

When he was a child Duncan wasn't interested in music. His father tried and tried to get him to learn an instrument, the drums, the saxophone, and the piano, but Duncan just wasn't interested – he was more interested in sport, and in films. So, his father bought him a little 8 mm video camera, and he used it to make films with his Star Wars toys.

After he left university, Duncan went to the London Film School and studied to be a film director.

In the early years of his career, Duncan directed TV commercials, for example, for the fashion label French Connection, and Heinz ketchup, and he also worked on video games.

In 2006 he made his first film, called Moon, a science fiction drama, which was a great success. He won many awards for the film, including the prize for best new British director.

Since then he has made many more successful films, including Source Code, a science fiction thriller starring Jake Gyllenhaal, and Warcraft, based on the game World of Warcraft.

Duncan has said that one of the reasons why he went into film directing was that he wanted to be behind the camera, not in front of it. As a child there were often paparazzi around, which he hated. Even now, as a successful film director, he doesn't like being photographed.

Although, as he says, 'I've never needed to use my father's name', Duncan was very close to his father all his life and was with him when he died, in January 2016. He said of him 'He was a wonderful father who encouraged me to be creative, but different.'

Tim Powell isn't a morning person. Which is surprising, because on weekdays he gets up very early. While most of us are still asleep, Powell wakes up at 5.45, does exercise for 30 minutes in his home gym, and has a big breakfast. Then he gets ready for work and drives to the office. When he gets to the building where he works, he goes for a walk around a local park, then he goes inside to start work at 9. And on Thursdays he gets up even earlier, at 5.20 a.m., to study German.

Powell is a lawyer. He works 70 hours a week, and he says that getting up early helps him to do more during the day. He isn't the only one – many busy, successful people get up very early.

Experts agree that getting up early is a big help if you have a lot of things to do. There are three main reasons for this. The first reason why it's good to get up early is that the early morning is quiet. Nobody phones you at 6.00 a.m. There aren't any important emails or messages to answer. There aren't any meetings. There aren't any people. The morning is your time.

The second reason is that if you get up early, you go to bed early. Most people don't do anything useful in the evenings. People who go to bed late spend many hours watching TV, seeing their friends, and spending time on social media. So if you want to do a lot, it's better to go to bed early, and have shorter evenings and longer mornings. The third reason is that it's better to do things in the morning, when you have energy. Most people are tired after a day at work or college. And when you're tired, the last thing you want to do is to exercise, or to study, or to practise a musical instrument.

And if you find it impossible to get up early? Set your alarm five minutes earlier than you usually get up. And the next day set it five minutes earlier again. After three weeks you'll have nearly two hours that you never had before!

1 Interviewer Did you like school?

A I didn't hate school, but I don't think I liked it very much. I used to enjoy PE, I used to enjoy sport, um, I quite liked English but there were lots of subjects I didn't like, I didn't like maths very much, history was boring, and I found science difficult. I had a small group of friends, not many, but a close group of friends and I used to spend time with them talking about sport, talking about music, so it wasn't too bad, but I didn't like it very much. I've never been back to school, I've never been to a school reunion, or anything like that.

2 Interviewer Did you like school?

B No, not really. I didn't like it at all.

Interviewer Why not?

B It was a boys' school and I got bored with just being with boys all the time. And I didn't really like any of the subjects.

3 Interviewer Did you like school?

C Well, yes and no. Some things I really loved, some things I thought 'this isn't much fun', but I used to enjoy quite a lot of the subjects.

Interviewer Like what?

C I liked English and I liked maths.

Interviewer And what didn't you enjoy?

C I hated geography. And I hated PE. The PE teacher once caught me reading a book on the football pitch, and I was punished for that.

4 Interviewer Did you like school?

D I didn't like it, I absolutely loved it! I liked all the subjects, especially English and history. I remember one time when I was about six or seven, I got ill during the Easter holidays and I was really, really sad, and my mum thought I was sad because I was ill during the holidays, but in fact I was terrified that I'd never get better and I'd never go back to school.

5 Interviewer Did you like school?

E Er, sometimes. Yeah, most of the time.

Interviewer What did you like about it?

E Well I had some good friends, and I liked learning things, but there were some subjects that I didn't like very much and I hated PE. I used to invent a lot of excuses, like saying that I was ill, because I didn't want to do it.

6 Interviewer Did you like school?

F Yes, definitely, I really enjoyed school.

Elementary school was all fun and we had great teachers. I always really looked forward to getting back to school. High school was harder work and we used to have lots of exams and tests, but we had really inspiring teachers. My favourites were in math and biology. And overall, yeah, I really liked it.

Buying jeans isn't as easy as it used to be. Years ago there was only one kind of jeans – probably Levis. Nowadays, there are hundreds – different styles, different colours, different lengths, with buttons, with zips. There are so many options that you feel the perfect pair must be waiting for you somewhere...

And it isn't just jeans. In big supermarkets we have to choose between thousands of products – my local supermarket has 35 different kinds of milk! When we're buying clothes or electrical gadgets, ordering a coffee in a café, looking for a hotel on a travel website, deciding which TV channel to watch, or even choosing a future partner on a dating website, we constantly have to choose from hundreds of possibilities.

People often think that being able to choose from a lot of options is a good thing.

However, university researchers have discovered that too much choice is making us feel unhappy and dissatisfied. The problem is that we have so many options that we get stressed every time we have to make a decision, because we're worried about making the wrong one. Then when we choose one thing we feel bad because we think we are missing other opportunities, and this makes us dissatisfied with what we've chosen.

Research also shows that we feel happier when we have less choice. In a study, Professor Mark Lepper at Stanford University found that people who tried six kinds of jam and then chose one felt happier with their choice than those who were offered 24 jams to taste.

But if all this choice is bad for us, what can we do about it? Professor Lepper suggests that we should try to relax when we have to decide what to buy. 'Don't take these choices too seriously or it will become stressful,' he says. 'If you pick a sofa from IKEA in 30 seconds, you'll feel better than if you spend hours researching sofas – because you won't know what you're missing.'

I went onto the Twin Strangers website. All you have to do is pay $3.95, upload a photo of your face, and then describe it, your nose, mouth, and eyes. I looked in a mirror and decided that I have an oval face, blue eyes and, unfortunately, thin lips. Immediately I got a lot of photos of possible matches. My first reaction was 'They all look totally different from me'. Then something interesting began to happen. Some of the people started to look familiar, like people in my family. I found one woman who looked just like my brother. I started to wonder. Was there something there?

I called my husband to come and have a look at all these 'twins'. His first reaction was the same as mine, but then he went a bit quiet. He pointed to one woman who, at first sight, looks completely different from me, but whose picture I had stopped at several times. He said 'She has the same mouth as you. In fact she's a bit like you.' And he was right. I decided to change my profile a bit. Many people tell me I look younger than I really am, so I put my age as ten years younger, and then searched again.

The result was surprising. Suddenly there seemed to be a number of women a bit like me. Especially one. I put her picture on my Facebook page and asked my friends what they thought. The first person to answer was my brother. Yes, he wrote. She looks like you and our sister.

It's a strange feeling. I keep looking at her picture. We're very similar, but not identical, for example, she has brown eyes, but mine are blue. But there's something there. Not just the blonde hair and the thin lips. There's something in her eyes that I recognize. It's a very strange feeling, but I'm really happy that I found her. I sent her a message through the website, but she hasn't replied yet. I'm going to keep trying. I want to know who she is.

Iris Hello, Rosemary. How are you this morning?

Rosemary Hello, Iris. I'm fine thanks, but you'll never guess what's happened. Jack and Emma have broken up!

Iris No! Jack and Emma, from number 36? That can't be true. I saw them last week and they looked really happy.

Rosemary No, it's definitely true. I heard them shouting. They were having a terrible argument.

Iris No! When?

Rosemary Last night. After he came home from work.

Iris What did they say?

Rosemary Well, I wasn't really listening...

Iris Of course not.

Rosemary But I couldn't help hearing. She was talking so loudly and of course the walls are very thin...

Iris So what did they say?

Rosemary Well, she said that she was going to stay with her mum! She told him that she wouldn't come back.

Iris Ooh, how awful. What about the children?

Rosemary She said she'd taken them to her sister's. I suppose she'll take them with her in the end. And anyway, then five minutes later I saw her leaving the house with a suitcase!

Iris No! Why do you think she's leaving him? Is he seeing another woman?

Rosemary I don't know. Ooh, here's my bus.

Iris I must go and tell Mrs Jones at number 14. She's always thought there was something... something strange about him.

Jack Hi Emma. I'm back. Where are you?

Emma I'm upstairs in the bedroom. I'm packing.

Jack Why? Where are you going?

Emma I'm going to stay with my mum.

Jack Your Mum? Why?

Emma She's had an accident. She fell over in the street yesterday and she's broken her leg.

Jack How awful. Poor thing. Shall I go and make you a cup of tea?

Emma That'd be lovely. Thanks darling.

Jack How long do you think you'll have to stay?

Emma I won't come back until the weekend I don't think. I'll have to make sure she's OK. I've taken the children to my sister's for the night and she'll take them to school tomorrow morning. Can you pick them up after school?

Jack Of course I can, darling. Now, don't worry about anything. We'll be absolutely fine. Drink your tea and I'll go and get your suitcase.

Emma Thanks, darling. The taxi'll be here in five minutes.

7.3

- The infinitive is the base form of the verb. It is often used with to. It can be positive (e.g. to be) or negative (e.g. not to be).

- We use the infinitive with to:

- 1 after some verbs, e.g. want, need, would like, etc.
See Verb forms p.158.
- 2 after adjectives.
- 3 after questions words, e.g. what, where, when, etc.
- 4 to say why you do / did something.
I came to this school to learn English. NOT for learn English.

Infinitive without to Remember that we use the infinitive without to with auxiliary verbs (do / does / didn't) and after most modal verbs (can, could, will, would, etc.), e.g. Do you live near here?

Can you help me? I won't forget. What would you do?

7.7

- The gerund is the base form of the verb + ing. It can be positive (e.g. going) or negative (e.g. not going).
- We use the gerund:

must and have to

Must and have to are very similar, but there is a small difference. We normally use have to for a general obligation (a rule at work / school or a law) e.g. We have to start work at seven. We normally use must for a personal obligation (one that the speaker imposes), e.g. a parent to a child: You must go to bed now! But often we can use either must or have to.

mustn't and don't have to

Mustn't and don't have to have completely different meanings. Compare:
You mustn't go. = It's prohibited. Don't go.
You don't have to go. = You can go if you want to, but it's not obligatory / necessary.
